Why Not Do Something?

Council on Monday instructed the city commissioners to carry out suggestions from the board of health relative to the handling or mishandling of garbage and the sweeping of sidewalks in the early morning.

Nothing seems to have been done about abating the other and greater nuisance—the dust storms which sweep through the city every time the wind blows. It has been blowing a good deal of late, and men who served in Sicily must have been reminded of the sand-carrying Sicilians.

The one way to abolish this nuisance of course is to pave the streets, the market square, and other open spaces. But there is limit to the number of open yards of paving that can be put down this year and next year, and the year after that. Meanwhile we have to put up with a dust storm whenever a lively wind comes from the south.

It isn't quite that hopeless. Something can be done to lessen the aggravation. How about turning out the water carts to sprinkle those abominable clouds of dust from the wheels of every passing car? Or, now that the war is over, how about getting some oil and giving them a good oiling? The council, as used to be done in pre-war years?

Dangerous Lenny

The inordinate number of indirect ex-posure cases which have cropped up in Edmonton recently call for prompt and vigorous action on the part of the police and on the part of the bench.

The situation is rendered much more serious than it appears on the surface, because, in the first place, many of these cases are not reported to the police out of undue delicacy on the part of witnesses, and in the second place, because such offenders usually progress through various stages of their disgusting malady until they commit some violent sex crime.

These offenses should be reported promptly and in every instance. It is unfair to the community to let any sense of false modesty deter one from giving the police full particulars.

It is said, too, that these offenders have been treated with considerable leniency in the courts. If this is true, it is dangerous leniency.

It is reasonable to suppose that some oficials regard these offenses as minor in character and of a nuisance rather than of criminal nature.

Nothing could be further from the truth.

Medical jurisprudence shows quite conclusively from many cases that the criminal every person who engages in so-called minor sex offenses is a potential sex murderer.

This is a somewhat exaggerated view of the police drive against these people and for wise and vigorous action in the courts.

A Veteran Police Officer

Although he was first initiated into police work in the RNWMP, Assistant Commissioner

W. F. W. Hancock, who has been in the service for many years, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant, a promotion which is an honor and a reward for his long and valuable service to the force.

When Colonel Hancock came to this country from England 30 years ago it was with the intention of farming, as it was almost every immigrant's intention in those days. What happened to the agricultural immigrant has not been told, but years later he enlisted with the RNWMP at Calgary, thus taking the first step in a career which has continued to this day without a break until now, with the exception of his overseas Military Forces of Canada.

With the benefit of a year of engagement in the Mounted Police, he joined the Alberta Provincial force on his return in 1918 and was amongst those absorbed into the senior force upon disbandment of the latter. This length of his police duties as well as of his residence in this province therefore establish his claim to distinguished citizenship.

It is that as well as his official capacity that Colonel Hancock has served Alberta well during most of its four decades. With its roots so firmly planted in Alberta, it will surprise no one to know that he intends to keep his home in Edmonton after his re-irement a week from now.

Mischievous Reminiscences

Nothing on earth, we suppose, can actually dam up the flood of wartime reminiscences which is beginning to be unloosed upon us. Nor would it be wise or tolerant to attempt to hold them back, even though the most of them are merely exertions of the clamoring ego for expression.

But the public can brace itself to receive these literary tales with some discrimination and good sense. This is a prime necessity in the case of such publications as "My Three Years with Eisenhower," by Captain Harry

C. Butcher USNR, the alleged dispatches which have already called into play a good deal of unfortunate international acrimony.

Bearing in mind the fact that some minor characters in real life drama love nothing better than to play the minor characters at each other's throats, one is asked to consider the horrid implications behind the allegation that Field Marshal Alexander, now Governor-General of Canada, refused peace terms to

A. G. L. McNaughton permission to visit Canadian troops in Sicily.

Some journals have already seized upon this malicious version of an occasion, speculating about an "affront to Canada" and other similar nonsense.

This is in poor taste and in poor judgment. It is poor journalism.

In the first place, it has not been proved.

In the second place, there was doubtless some good reason for it if it did occur. And those who watched General McNaughton's brief political career in Canada after his resignation from his command, can believe that such a reason existed.

This is the kind of literary sniping that can very well cause much ill will and disturbance. Readers would do well to swallow such stuff with the traditional grain of salt.

Spokane Resident, 74, Gets Wish to See Rocky

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE—Although she is 74 years old and walks with crutches because of an ailment, Mrs. Mary Garrett of Spokane came up to Rocky Mountain House for the week-end to "see the frontier town" she had heard so much about. She had been in Winnipeg to visit a son, and in Calgary visiting friends, and heard so much of Rocky that she felt she could not go back to Spokane without seeing the place.

SO SHE CAME up for a visit and was interested in the stories of the town, especially in its history that goes back to the 1790s. She went out to the cairn that marks the old trading post where David Thompson wintered on his way to discover the Thompson and Columbia Rivers. She met Indians who are descendants of the early warping red men who slaughtered the white traders.

Besides her interest in the history of Rocky, she was amazed at the activity here, where trucks run night and day and sawmills seldom shut down.

BORN IN ONTARIO she lived in Calgary in 1913, moving from there to Spokane. She is credited in timber and mining camps all over the west, and was chief cook for 125 drivers in Yellowstone Park for two seasons. She has travelled all over North America, high hiking when her money ran out. Crimped for six years, she can "hump" a ride any more, but she can still get on and off trains and buses.

Mrs. Garrett has four children, one in Winnipeg, one in Haver, B.C., one in Spokane and a daughter in Idaho; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Her sons served in the Canadian Army in the first war.

"PIN-UP" GIRLS FOR BRITISH TOMMIES: Five Trans-Canada Air Lines stewardesses have been chosen as the "sweethearts of the regiment" and pin-up girls by No. 1 Company, Police Corps, India Command of the British Army. The soldiers came across a picture showing the girls in their smart TCA hostess uniforms and were struck by their beauty and cheerfulness. The British Tommies will now find life much brighter because the girls have consented to become their pen pals.

The song service was under the leadership of the Rev. H. Simpson of Killam, while a special feature of the evening was an open testimonial, "What Easter Means."

$1,500 Collected
LACOMBE—Approximately $1,500 has been collected so far by the Morningside Memorial Hall for the erection of a $2000 Memorial hall at that point. It is expected by the league executive that actual work will start this spring on the new project, with local labor being volunteered by the residents. Present plans call for a building 30 feet by 35 feet, and a half-size basement, large enough to provide meeting rooms for the residents. Bull Sale May 30 LACOMBE—Close to 100 bulls are entered for sale in the annual Lacombe bull sale to be held in the Central Alberta pavilion on May 30. Entries close Thursday, April 25, and it is expected that the number of animals for sale will top the 100 mark. Many of the contributors this year are well-known stockmen from outside the Central Alberta area.

Hold Youth Rally
LACOMBE—The Rev. W. J. Laing of Calgary delivered an evangelistic message at the regular rally of the Youth for Christ movement held in the church hall, Lacombe, Thursday evening. Devotions, and solos were rendered by a group from Calgary. A quartet from the Calgary Baptist Church also helped provide the program.

Villagers In Africa Object to Gold Find

ODENDALLS RUST, South Africa, April 25.—(Reuters)—There are people in Indendallrust, south of Rust, who are said to be the world's richest gold strike, who do not want the gold that lies beneath its surface, and who do not want to see their little village turned into another Johannesburg.

"We don't want gold here any more than Don Paul the African trickster for President Roosevelt wanted it in Transvaal."

"Gold brings trouble. Gold brings a city and traders—money, hunger and dishonesty. We don't want it."

This man is the owner of two plots of land which were worth £10 (£1350) a few years ago. Today he would have no difficulty in selling them for £3,000 (about $13,350).

Others share the same view. "BUT THESE PEOPLE are in a minority, and the mayor himself, H. J. Weber, is the leader of the opposite group, who sees in the strike at the Goldfield a real program of building and development which may bring wealth and prosperity."

Plans have been passed for the erection of a second hotel to cost £25,000 and the existing hotel is to be improved.

The minister of transport is planning to link the area with a railway. There is even talk of electric light in the village.

WHO HAS ALL THE MONEY HE WANTS?

Joe Green is a steady worker with a steady job. He has always met his bills. But now, because of sickness, he suddenly finds he is short of ready cash... tomorrow he will go to his bank and arrange a Personal Loan.

You may find yourself in the same position as Joe Green.

Anybody may! Personal loans through your bank make it possible for you to anticipate future earnings. This is an essential part of its services.

Such loans may be obtained to meet financial needs of many kinds:

to lay in ahead a winter's supply of coal, to pay municipal or other taxes in time to earn the discount, to provide for home repairs, to send a boy or girl to college, to consolidate debts—indeed for any sound reason.

Bank credit runs through all personal life and commercial life.

HOW PACIFIC COAST SALMON ARE CAUGHT

The Gill-net
Held in position by bottom floats at the top, and lead weights at the bottom, the gill-net is a curtain of diamond-shaped meshes in which the fish, swimming against the tide, become entangled. The gill-net is generally about 25 feet deep and almost a quarter of a mile long, with a bag or light on a buoy marking the far end. The net is usually pulled in by a revolving power drum, and the catch taken out.

The Gill-net

Though employing smaller boats and less gear than the purse-seine method, gill-net fishing for this very reason enables many thousands of fisherman to engage in a lucrative branch of the fishing industry.

During the war, the gill-netters did a splendid job of helping the industry to make good shipments of canned salmon to Britain.

Brickman-Robinson Wedding Held at All Saints Cathedral

One of the prettiest weddings of the Easter season took place at All Saints cathedral Wednesday at 4 p.m., when Miss Edith Grace Robinson, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robinson of Telford, became the bride of William James Brickman, only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brickman of Mannville. The Rev. W. F. Barford, Anglican Bishop of Edmonton, assisted by the Ven. Archdeacon S. F. Tackery, performed the ceremony. The beauty of the Easter lilies on the altar added to the simplicity of the setting. Ribbon bows marked the guest pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a bridal gown of white tulle styled on Victoria lines. The simplicity of the bodice was broken by a narrow yoke accented with ruffles and self bow. Self bows on a shirred inset, ornamented the full skirt. The long sleeves tapered to tiny points over the wrists. Her silk embroidered veil fell in soft folds to the floor.

THE BRIDES' jewelry consisted of a gold cross set with the bride's father and diamond studded gold earrings from Copenhagen, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a semicircular bouquet of deep red roses and narcissi.

Her only sister, Miss Isabel Robinson, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids' two sisters, the Misses Frances Brickman of Elk Point, and Jean Brickman of Lacombe, were bridesmaids. They were dressed alike. Miss Robinson was in pink marquisette over a laced skirt. The Misses Brickman were in blue net over tulle. The brides featured short sleeves and a shirred yoke. The full skirts were dotted with contrasting ribbon bows. They were matching lower and ribbon hats and matching elbow-length handbags, lace mittens. Their only ornaments were sets of gold jewelry, gifts of the bridegroom and bride. They carried colorful bouquets of carnations and double narcissi.

ALAN WILLIAMS of Mannville was best man. Chester Peol and Andy Anderson, both of Edmonton, were ushers.

Vernon Harford played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, the congregation sang "O Perfect Love".

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Robinson chose a dove grey dress patterned in aqua and violet flowers. Her costume was completed by an aqua top coat and silver fur. Her corsage was white carnations.

The bridegroom's mother chose as her ensemble a deep coral dress-maker suit, a black picture hat with flowers to tone. Her tailcoat was complemented with black and white accessories and corsage of white carnations and narcissi.

AFTER the ceremony a reception for 60 guests was held in the banquet room of the Coronet hotel where the bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated by Miss Winifred Reeves of Irma, an aunt of the bridegroom. The cake was surrounded by tulle and flanked by vases of spring flowers and lighted tapers. Archdeacon Tackery was toastmaster. Maj. W. C. Scott of Telford, an oldtime friend of the family, proposed the toast to the bride. Miss Audrey Smith played piano solos. Miss Jean Brickman, accompanied by the Rev. H. G. Grant sang "On Promise Me".

LATER the couple left for a honeymoon, the bride travelling in a turquoise blue suit with matching top coat checked in brown. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Brickman will reside in Telford until September when they will make their home in Edmonton where the bridegroom will attend the University of Alberta. The bride is a graduate of the Vermilion Agricultural College and for the past few years has been on the staff of the Telford school. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Vermilion Agricultural College and recently resigned from four and a half years overseas.

British Royal World Federation branch meeting in the clubhouse of the Coronet hotel, Friday at 4 p.m. President, Arnold Hamilton, will be the speaker.

Ovaltine

Science has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as loss of appetite, stunted growth, loss of energy, nervousness, and even eye-sight.

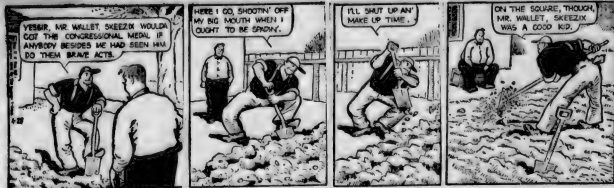

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Spare servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B, C, D, Riboflavin (G) and Nicotin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complex proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. If there isn't an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underperforms, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.
